SPAIN

According to CBRE, Spain finds itself amongst the six most attractive real estate markets for investment, and it also leads in GDP growth among European countries, according to the International Monetary Fund. Spain's GDP growth was 3.2% over the last year. This tendency will continue in the near future.

Moreover, Spain is an auspicious country to live in more than 280 days of sunshine a year, mild winters and hot Mediterranean summer, rich cultural heritage, high-standard education and quality healthcare services.

LEGAL BASIS FOR INVESTOR PROGRAM

On the bases of the law 14/2013 of 27 September, which supports entrepreneurship and internationalization, Spain offers a special program for obtaining a Residence Permit in exchange for investments, and introduces a new type of visa – Investor Visa.

Investor Visa enables you to reside in Spain from 1 to 365 days a year. This visa also allows you to move freely within the Schengen countries in accordance with the visa regime. Within its period of validity, the investor may obtain a Residence Permit for 2 years, with further extension for 5 years period.
